Request: Reader catches Dylan stuffing her underwear into his coat pocket.

"I'm thirsty.. I'm gonna go get a drink, be right back.." You mumbled, rambling as you walked past him and the laundry basket with a long sigh before exiting the door. He slouched against the carpet and called out to you as the music blared on in the background, saluting your exit with a casual wave. "Get me something.." You raised your arm as you walked past the door, signaling you had heard him right as you flew down the staircase to take a minute or two alone without having to clean your bedroom. Upstairs he warily glanced between the door and CD player before turning to your dresser. He tightened his fingers around the handles on the drawers before opening up the top one that was filled with nothing but panties, tights, and socks. His eyes dilated as he stared down at the piles of delicate fabric, growing aroused at the thought of you in only any of the items. He took one pair into his hands as you quietly returned to the bedroom, unaware of your footsteps as he spread the babypink lace apart with his fingers before lowering his head to sniff and inhale the essence of the fabric. A mix of laundry detergent and your flesh resided in the material, sparking his imagination as he predicted himself jerking off to it later. He groaned deep in his chest as he paused beside the dresser, shutting his eyes as his dick began to harden through his jeans. You stood beside the doorway, flashing a uncomfortable face as an blush invaded your cheeks at the sight of him shoving your underwear into his coat pocket. You bit your lip and paused too as you gripped onto the two liter of Dr. Pepper, several seconds passing until you immediately ran towards him. "Dylan.." You muttered, clearing your throat. He blushed as you peered up at him while pressing your body up against his, glancing down at you with dilated pupils when your hand went straight for his pocket to fish out your panties. "Who put that there?" He asked, blushing harder as you peered up at him with a stern expression. A laugh threatened to escape his lips as you clung onto him while meeting his flustered face, replaced by another groan when you impulsively attached your mouth to his. You tossed the panties ontop the dresser while moaning against his lips, surprised when he clasped the back of your head before pushing you towards the bed. "Dylan?" You questioned, pulling away to look at him as he glanced down at you with half-lidded eyes before returning to the CD player to lower the volume.

He then pressed his body up against yours before pushing you onto your back as you ran your hands across his chest while peering up at him with a blush. Your mind circulated between what just happened and what was happening right now as he reconnected your lips together, influencing your face to flush from the whole situation. "Do you want to?" He murmured, holding your jaw into his hand as his soft eyes glanced down at you. You bit at your lip again and paused as you pictured what he was implying, blushing harder when he nodded with a blush of his own while pinning his knees on either side of your thighs. Before you knew what was happening, he took one of your hands and placed it ontop of his hard cock as it strained against his jeans. You reluctantly ran your hand across his crotch with a blush as he peered down at both you and his erection, intently gazing in your face. Seconds passed until he undid his pants, blushing too as he glanced down at his exposed cock after tugging his jeans and boxers past his hips. You gasped as he revealed his growing arousal for you, stiffening when he placed your hand onto his bare cock with a strangled breath. He guided your movements with his own hand, shutting his eyes again as he hardened underneath the touch of your fingers. He tilt his head to lay kisses along your jaw as you locked both your palm and fingers around him, groaning deep in his chest when a few hushed moans left your lips. "Please.." You sighed, slowing the movement of your hand when he dropped his head into your neck to leave kisses there too. "Dyl.." You whispered, gasping again when he pinned all his weight ontop of you while your hands roamed across his back. "..(Y/N)." He moaned, pressing more kisses to your neck as you clawed your fingers down his back before slipping them through his hair. He then raised his head to look at you, taking your face into his hand as you nodded and squirmed beneath him. You reached out to grab one of his wrists before placing his hand onto your abdomen, moaning when he caressed at it while glancing down at you. "..Here." You mumbled, sighing as you lowered his hand towards one of your hip bones. He eyed you and your body's movements, growing more aroused as you shoved his long fingers towards your slit that was throbbing through your clothes. "Here?" He asked, rubbing his fingers around your crotch's mouth in your reaction as you peered up at him and squirmed with an aroused expression. "Yes.." You mumbled, making him chuckle as he swirled his fingertips along your swollen slit before quickly brushing them back and forth a few times.

You spread your legs with a mewl as you clasped at his knuckle, moaning as his fingers caused your pussy to throb and swell. His lips quirked as he glanced down at you while leaning your panels down to your knees, soon turning into a smirk when you spread your thighs with a whimper. "Dylan, please.." He pulled the material from your ankles as he removed it from your entire legs, groaning as you grazed his cheek with your feet. "What do you want me to do?" He asked, exhaling as he held your ankles onto either side of his head. "Anything.." You murmured, sighing as you threw your head back against the bed while clenching your thighs in anticipation. He took one foot into his and rubbed at it before kissing at it too as he stared back down at you, repeating your words. "Anything?" You nodded, staring up at him with clear arousal and submission in your eyes. His lips laid kisses along your legs as you arched your back against the bed, stopping at your thighs as you squirmed again beneath him. He returned his fingers to your aching slit as he glanced down at you, rubbing them against your bundle of nerves. Your pre-cum leaked along your slit as you held yourself up, digging your elbows into the bed with a string of whimpers as he continued to rub you. His other hand dove for your chest, groping at your breasts through your shirt before quickly removing it from your body. Your arms gave out from his action as he exposed your breasts, causing you to cover them both as they bounced from the positioning and exposure. He released another strangled breath as he leant forward to lay kisses along both of them, groaning when you slouched against the bed while wrapping your legs around his back. "You're so beautiful, baby.." He mumbled, peering up at you with a blush as he lowered his head in between your legs to attach his mouth to your moist slit. "Dylan!" You gasped, grasping the back of his head as he pressed sloppy kisses to your swollen entrance. Your fingers ran through his dark blonde hair as his lips came in contact with your sensitive flesh, tugging on his locks when he suddenly pushed his tongue past your entrance. "You're so wet.." He mumbled, eyeing you again as you stared back down at him and froze out of both surprise and pleasure. He ran his tongue across your slit, licking at your stimulation as you grew wetter just from his mouth. His tongue moved in gentle patterns, emitting soft sucking sounds as it came in contact with your pre-cum. "You enjoying yourself?" He mumbled, burying his head underneath your thighs to push his tongue farther inside you. You gasped and raised your hips while clutching the back of his neck, whining as he completely desecrated you with his mouth. "Yeah.." You mumbled in a small voice, shyly peering up at him when he raised his head to mock you. "Yeah?" He muttered teasingly, staring back down at you while gliding his hands along your abdomen. "Good.." You furrowed your brows as he grew cockier, returning to your submissive state when he tilt his head to suck marks into your neck.

You groaned and brought both your hands into his hair, feeling your pre-cum leak out from your slit as he moved closer until your bodies were touching again. His hands roamed your torso as you tugged on his blonde locks, stopping when you clasped at them before pulling them back on your breasts. He detached his mouth from your neck to look at you while massaging your breasts as you clutched onto his long fingers, grunting as you raised yourself up to grind against his cock. Your mouth returned to his as you kissed him, making a moan leave his lips as your bodies touched one another. You panted and detached your mouth from his as his needy eyes stared back at you, followed by a drawn-out moan as he responded by grinding his cock against your slit faster. You ran your hands across his chest and back as he moved, tugging on the front of his shirt right as he removed it from his body. "Come closer.." You murmured, groaning when his chest finally met with yours as he hooked his chin over your shoulder while mouthing against your neck. "I love you.." He muttered, hiding his face away from you as he lowered his gaze in shame. Your heart fluttered in your chest at his words as he wrapped his arms around your waist, pounding when you peered up at him with a shy and surprised expression. He stared back down at you almost disappointedly as you caressed at his cheek, softening his face when your mouth reattached to his in another sensual kiss. "I love you too.." You mumbled, feeling his smile return as he followed the pace and movement of your lips. You smiled too as he ran his hands through your hair while cupping your face, moaning as you tapped your tongue against his. A faint essence of your pre-cum pooled in your mouth as you two kissed, causing a moan to leave his lips at the thought of you uncaring where his tongue had just been. You dragged your fingernails down his back before running them through the curls at his neck as the beads on his necklace clanked from the movements of his head. "I love you so much.." He mumbled barely above his breath, thumbing at your chin as he tilt his head to deepen his kisses. You burrowed your head into his neck shyly, shifting your arms around his back as he peered down at you with a confused expression similar to a pout. "Hold me.." You mumbled, sighing when he wrapped his arms around back around your waist. His hair fell over his cheeks as his eyes stared down at you protectively, dangling past his jaw as the expression remained on his face.

You kissed at his neck, feeling him raise one hand to the back of your head before resting it onto your back before you peered up at him and murmured, "I want you.." He furrowed his brows as he lowered his head to press his mouth to yours yet again, moaning when you responded with twice as much force. "Lay down.." He murmured, stroking at your waist before you laid onto your back with a comfortable sigh. You outstretched your arms towards him, releasing a shaky breath when he crashed his body into yours after tugging his jeans and boxers down to his knees. "Take them off.." You whispered, watching him toss the rest of his clothes to the floor before meeting your eyes when he turned his head back around to press a lazy kiss to your lips. You loosened your arms around him as he raised himself up from your body before muttering, "You ready?" You nodded, staring back at him in slight exhaustion as he caressed at your cheek. "Okay.." He mumbled to himself, rocking his hips nervously before leaning down to kiss you once again as he pushed his cock past your entrance with a grunt. You yelped, groaning almost sickly as he pulled you closer while grasping the back of your head. "Move, (Y/N).." You whimpered and raised your hips, trembling underneath him as your stomach whirled at the feel of him entering you for the first time. He trailed kisses along the back of your neck as he thrust, slowly rocking his hips as you reluctantly moved yours in order to escape the pain. "You good baby?" He asked, moderating the pace of his thrusts as you began to create a rhythm between you two. You nodded, rocking your hips against his as an frenzy formed at the act of you both moving at once. "Faster.." You whispered, mewling into his neck when he dug his fingertips into your stimulated nerves while quickening his thrusts. "Dyl~ here.." You mumbled, pulling back some of your flesh while guiding the correct direction of his fingers. He bit at his lip as he rubbed at your bundle of nerves, exchanging a glance with you before groping at one of your breasts right as you arched your back and mewled beneath him. "You're so goddamn beautiful.." He whispered, groaning as he leaned forward to press his lips against yours in a passionate kiss. You rocked your hips harder, whining when he began to thrust twice as hard too while trailing kisses across your face. "You're perfect.." You took his face into his hands and stared back at him as he thrust in and out of you, moaning as he grunt and whimpered ontop of you. "I love you so much.." You murmured, raising yourself up while grasping his head back into your hands to leave a kiss onto his forehead and cheek. "You're the one who's beautiful." He shook his head, giggling and wincing as his thrusts started to slow. "Um, no.. that's you." You giggled too, brushing his blonde hair from his face as he smiled down at you while wincing a few more times. "Dylan, shut up.." You muttered, attacking his mouth with yours yet again.
